RACIAL INEQUALITY

TEMA SMITH
MORE SPEAKERS COMING SOON!

Our Jewish traditions strengthen community by design... But what happens when our communal assumptions create systemic barriers prohibiting Jews of Colour from equally accessing Jewish institutional and social life? Join members of the community as they share their personal stories and revisit key Jewish sources in the hopes of accelerating equitable participation in communal life.

"But of course, this doesn't apply to me. Why should it?!" We live in a reality where a person's actions and opinions have a real impact on others. COVID-19 has revealed a stark contrast between social responsibility, and the rights and freedoms of the individual. Whether you've strictly self-isolated or weighed the risks of gathering with family and friends, your actions have consequences for you and on others. So what can we learn from this about society? And armed with this knowledge, how can we strengthen connections between those with extremely different opinions?

VALUING JUDAISM

JEWISH: AT WHAT COST?

WINNIE SANDLER GRINSPOON
MICHAEL LEVITT
ANDRES SPOKOINY
RAFI YABLONSKY

Judaism demands that we act with intention to fulfil our great potential. But at what cost?! The path to elevated living never goes on sale. In fact, the cost of Jewish involvement seems to increase year-over-year. And the time invested in Jewish life doesn't come cheap, either. Is living Jewishly worth the struggle? And at what price, financial and social, should we be willing to pay to balance our Jewish and secular lives? Join global and local Jewish community members as they openly weigh the sacrifices and demands with the ROI of Jewish life.

CHANGE UP

Kneeling on the sidelines, branded Black Lives Matter jerseys...It's game night, but is it still really all about sports? As thousands of fans tune into ESPN, what responsibility does the sports industry have regarding the social issues of our time? Is the professional sports industry a fun distraction or do sports celebrities and everyday fans have a responsibility to change up their focus and get off the couch?

We know. WE KNOW! Your mother loves you and she's told you that you can accomplish anything you set your mind to; that you should reach for the stars! It's an intoxicating idea and we don't want to mess with your mom, BUT... What happens when it's time for a reality check; when what you've aimed for is actually out of reach? Is it healthy to continue believing in your limitless potential or are you just setting yourself up for disappointment? Join our panel of resilient friends who share stories of getting smacked-down and the intense struggle to adjust their expectations and measures of success.

WINDOW SHOPPING

Swipe, swipe, swipe. You're a match! Well virtually anyway. The way we meet has changed so much, so fast. Shouldn't it be easier to find love in a seemingly bottomless pool of eligible singles online? It doesn't seem to be. Is choice overload keeping us from finding Mr. or Mrs. Right, or is the real search for some of us about finding our true selves?

THE JEWISH JESTER (CASE STUDY OF SACHA BARON COHEN)

Sacha Baron Cohen is dangerous! He walks the fine line between social critique and humour in the great tradition of the Jewish court jester. Beyond the edge of the line, he stabs at injustice to provoke meaningful change. But whistle blowing, whether through comedy or not can be dangerous to one's self. Not everyone is a skilled performer, producer, or comic blessed with the ability to push complex ideas into the light for our own good and live to tell the tale. So, when it comes to pointing-out injustice in the world, what can we learn from the greats about calling a spade a spade and living to tell the tale?

APPEARANCE & IDENTITY

SPEAKERS COMING SOON!

IN G-D'S IMAGE... EDITED

Who doesn't love a fresh haircut?! A new jacket? And what about a piercing? A tattoo? Or even a nose job?! These edits make us feel more like the person we want to be. But, why do we spend so much time and effort on the outside when it's what's on the inside that matters most? And what are we really trying to express when we spend so much time and money on how we seem to be doing rather, than how we are really doing? Our panelists dive head-first into an unfiltered talk about the struggle to love our insides as much as our outsides.

PANDEMIC RESPONSE

The House

THE HOUSE PIVOTED SWIFTLY IN RESPONSE TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC, MOVING FROM MAINLY IN-PERSON EVENTS TO UNIQUE, EFFECTIVE METHODS OF VIRTUAL ENGAGEMENT.

FROM IRL → TO URL

SINCE MARCH 2020, THE HOUSE TEAM HAS:

- PRODUCED MORE THAN TWO DOZEN WEEKLY VIRTUAL WORKSHOPS AND SOCIAL EVENTS FOR MORE THAN 700 PARTICIPANTS.
- WELCOMED THREE-DOZEN VOLUNTEER FACILITATORS AND SPEAKERS
- PRODUCED 50 EPISODES OF HOUSE ARREST, CLOSING IN ON 100K VIEWS
- MADE MORE THAN 1,000 PERSONALIZED PHONE CALLS AND MESSENGER EXCHANGES

THE PILLARS OF THE HOUSE... BEFORE COVID-19

THE HOUSE WAS BUILT ON THE STRENGTH OF THESE FOUR PILLARS, TYPICALLY ENGAGING OUR COMMUNITY IN-PERSON.

JEWISH TRADITIONS & RITUAL LEARNING

Deepening Celebrations and Committment.

House holiday programs dive deeper into Jewish rituals, contextualizing traditions in modern life. Jewish lifecycle rituals and the Jewish calendar provide a backdrop rich in values for participants to reflect on for the life they want to lead.

Whether unplugging from phones at a community Shabbat dinner for 100, or practising self-gratitude at a Passover event, The House strives to provide a new lens through which to view our traditions and rituals. Participants walk away feeling inspired and intrigued to learn more.

NICHE PROGRAMS & PARTNERSHIPS

Expanding Networks. Creating Value and Opportunity.

The House actively nurtures the lines of communication with our network of participants and partners in order to directly learn their needs. This strong link between The House and our community allows us to work together to quickly respond to the current trends and events affecting their lives.

Through these networks, we have developed programming on women's & mental health, events for newcomers to Toronto, and partnership events with CIE Birthright, UJA, and JCC, amongst countless others.

The House CONTINUED

SOCIAL ACTION INITIATIVES AND LEADERSHIP LEARNING

Repairing the World. Instilling Values. Inspiring Action.

Our hands-on Jewish acts of chesed programs give back to community. With participant input, we partner with dozens of local organizations to run volunteer programs that strengthen young adult networks, hearts and minds.

Hundreds of young adults also serve as program co-creators, committee members and peer learners, developing critical thinking, teamwork and leadership skills. Their tireless efforts power The House and create meaningful Jewish impact in our community.

LARGE-SCALE COMMUNITY-WIDE PROGRAMMING

Nurturing Talent. Inspiring Success. Building Community.

The House is known for its signature community-wide gatherings including JEDx and Jumans of Toronto, both massive initiatives that appeal to the broad spectrum of Jewish young adults in the GTA. Highlighting both internationally renowned keynote speakers, and shining a spotlight on young professionals, the JEDx and Jumans experiences have become pillars of our annual calendar and attract both huge in-person crowds and booming digital engagement, as well as providing an accessible door into our House Community.

THE PILLARS OF THE HOUSE... DURING COVID-19

WHEN IN-PERSON GATHERINGS BECAME UNSAFE, THE HOUSE JUMPED INTO ACTION, LEANING INTO SAFE, VIRTUAL METHODS OF ENGAGING OUR NETWORK.

LIVE-STREAMED CONTENT INITIATIVE

Bringing fun, important and relevant content direct to our community.

Within two weeks of Covid-19-related restrictions being put in place, The House's brand new content initiative, HOUSE ARREST, was born. House Arrest is a digital platform where host, Adina Samuels - along with co-hosts and exciting guests - explores relevant, relatable topics, and provides insight and entertainment to the young adults watching the live streams. House Arrest now boasts dozens of weekly broadcasts, hundreds of guests and thousands of views

COMMUNITY BUILDING

Reaching out, checking in... one person at a time.

Recognizing an increase in job losses, social isolation and mental anguish among Toronto's Jewish young adults, The House team scrambled into action to reach-out and connect with 1-to-1 phone calls and message exchanges to more than 1,000 people. Conversations filled with fun, laughter, tears and honesty, supported our community members in times of crisis and informed the content of our programs to better serve young people.

WORKSHOPS & LIVE CONVERSATIONS

Regular opportunities to learn, grow and connect virtually.

Our weekly interactive workshops and Zoom-based virtual events provide a canvas for our young adult network to develop skills and participate in timely, relevant conversations moderated by experts and special guests. From employment skills workshops to discussions surrounding race and inequality, these weekly virtual events have attracted hundreds of participants to this point.

VIRTUAL & SOCIALLY DISTANT IN-PERSON GATHERINGS

Making friends, growing networks and community through a pandemic.

The House Team quickly realized the need for regular connection, personal intercation and FUN during this unusal global experience. HOUSE PARTY, a twice-monthly virtual event on Zoom focused on relaxed interaction and an in-person vibe. Dozens of participants have attended and eagerly return on a regular basis. When restrictions were relaxed, small, socially distant in-person events were offered to those looking for an opportunity to connect outdoors.

VIRTUAL LEARNING & PARTNERSHIP WITH RABBI RAFI

Connecting Jewish values and traditions to a global pandemic.

Learning is at the core of Jewish peoplehood and also of House programs. Since the pandemic began Rabbi Rafi has offered Sunday Brunch topics prompted by real-world context and drawing on Jewish sources. The House is also proud to share Rabbi Rafi's 2711 Podcast - a daily-dose of bite-sized wisdom for those seeking to navigate the complexities of life today.
